Reader: Christ is risen from the dead, trampling down death by death, and upon those in the tombs bestowing life. (3x)

Psalm 5

Listen to my words, O Lord, consider my cry.

Attend to the voice of my prayer.
my King and my God,
because to You I will pray, O Lord.

You will hear my voice in the morning.
In the morning I will stand before You and You will visit and watch over me.

For You are not a God Who desires lawlessness;
and evildoers will not live with You,

nor will the violent remain before Your eyes.
You hate all who practice lawlessness.

You will destroy all who tell lies;
the Lord abhors a bloody and deceitful man.

But in Your great mercy
I will enter Your house, and in the fear of You
I will worship toward Your holy temple.

O Lord, guide me in Your righteousness, direct my way before You because of my enemies.

For there is no truth in their mouth;
their heart is empty.

Their throat is a yawning tomb,
with their tongues they deceive.

Judge them, O God,
let them fall by their own thoughts.
For the enormity of their godlessness cast them out, because they have rebelled against You, O Lord.

But let all who hope in You be glad in You;
they will rejoice forever
and You will live in them.

All who love Your name will glory in You, because You will bless a righteous person, O Lord.

You have crowned us with goodwill as with a shield.

Psalm 89 (90)

Lord, You have been our refuge from generation to generation.

Before the mountains were born and before the earth and the world were formed, even from age to age eternally You are.

Do not abandon man to humiliation,
for You have said, "Return, sons of men."

For a thousand years in Your eyes are like a day,
like yesterday which has come and gone,
and like a watch in the night.

Mere nothings will their years be
In the morning like grass they may pass away.

In the morning it blooms, then passes away;
by evening it droops, grows hard and withers.

For we perish in Your anger and we are troubled by Your wrath.

You have set our sins before You,
our life in the light of Your face.

For all our days have passed and we have perished in Your anger.
Our years have spun out like a cobweb.

The days of our life may be seventy years,
and if in the strong they are eighty years,
yet most of it is labor and trouble,
because weakness comes over us
and we are corrected.

Who knows the power of Your anger and who can gauge Your wrath from Your fear?

So make Your right hand known to me and those disciplined in heart by wisdom.

Return, O Lord! How long?
And be gracious to Your servants.

Let us be satisfied with Your mercy in the morning, Lord, and we shall be glad and rejoice all our days.

Let us be glad for the days in which You humbled us,
for the years in which we have seen evils.

And look upon Your servants and Your works,
and guide their children.

And may the radiance of the Lord our God be upon us,
and direct the works of our hands for us,
and direct the work of our hands.

Psalm 100 (101)

I will sing to You, Lord, of mercy and justice,
I will sing praise and understand in a faultless way.

When will You come to me?
I have walked in my house in the innocence of my heart.

I set no unlawful thing before my eyes,
I hate those who do wrong,

no crooked heart has joined me.
A villain who avoided me, I refused to know.

The man who in secret talks against his neighbor,
him I drive away.
A man with a proud eye and a greedy heart,
with him I was not eating.

My eyes are on the faithful of the land,
that they may sit with me.
He who walks in a blameless way has been employed in my service.

One who acts proudly has not lived in my house;
one who talks wrong things will not prosper in my sight.

Each morning I put to death all the sinners of the land, to destroy all evildoers from the city of God.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Glory to You, O God (3x)

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

<sup>1</sup> During the Fourth Week of Great Lent, at this point in the Hours we are to replace this item with the following Kontakion in Tone 7:
Now the flaming sword no longer guards the gates of paradise;
it has been mysteriously quenched by the wood of the cross!
The sting of death and the victory of Hades have been vanquished;
for You, O my Savior, came and cried to those in Hades: Enter again into paradise!

The Prayer of the Hours

At every season and every hour, in heaven and on earth, You are worshipped and glorified, O Christ our God, long-suffering, merciful, and compassionate; You love the just and show mercy on the sinner; You call all to salvation through the promise of blessings to come: O Lord, in this hour receive our supplications and direct our lives according to Your commandments. Sanctify our souls, hallow our bodies, correct our thoughts, cleanse our minds; deliver us from all tribulations, evil, and distress. Surround us with Your holy angels, that guided and guarded by them, we may attain to the unity of the faith and to the knowledge of Your unapproachable glory, for You are blessed unto ages of ages. Amen.

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

More honorable than the Cherubim, and more glorious beyond compare than the Seraphim: without corruption you gave birth to God the Word: true Theotokos, we magnify you.

In the name of the Lord, Father, bless.

The Priest comes out to the solea before the Holy Doors, vested only in his epitrachelion; he says:

Priest: May God have compassion on us and bless us, may He manifest His presence to us and have mercy on us.

Reader: Amen.

Cheesefare Wednesday and Friday, weekdays of Great Lent, and Holy Monday through Wednesday:

The Prayer of Saint Ephraim

Priest: O Lord and Master of my life, do not permit me the spirit of laziness, despair, lust of power, and idle talk. (All make a prostration.)

But give, rather, the spirit of chastity, humility, patience and love to Your servant. (All make a prostration.)

O Lord and King, grant me to see my own transgressions and not to judge my brother, for blessed are You unto ages of ages. Amen. (All make a prostration.)

Then all make 12 lesser reverences, saying for each:

O God, cleanse me a sinner and have mercy on me.

The Trisagion Prayers

Priest:	For Yours is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages.
Reader:	Amen.  Lord, have mercy. (12x)

The Prayer of the First Hour

Reader: O Christ, You are the true light which enlightens and sanctifies every man that comes into the world. Let the light of Your countenance shine on us, that in it we may behold the unapproachable light, and guide our footsteps aright to the keeping of Your commandments; through the prayers of Your most pure Mother and of all Your saints. Amen.

People: O victorious Leader of triumphant hosts!
We your servants, delivered from evil,
sing our grateful thanks to you, O Theotokos!
As you possess invincible might set us free from every calamity, so that we may sing: “Rejoice! O unwedded Bride!”

If no other service will immediately follow, the Priest pronounces the dismissal, facing the people, after which he bows to them, and returns to the Sanctuary:

The Dismissal

Priest: Glory to You, O Christ, our God and our hope, glory to You.

Psalm 16 (17)

Hear, O Lord, my righteousness, attend to my need, give ear to my prayer, not uttered with deceitful lips.

Let my judgment come out from Your presence,
let my eyes see what is right.

You have tested my heart, You have visited me at night,
You have tried me by fire and no wrongdoing was found in me.

That my mouth may not talk of the doings of men,
for the sake of the words of Your lips
I have kept hard ways.

Set my steps in Your tracks that my steps may not slip.

I cry out to You, O God, because You answer me;
incline Your ear to me and answer my words.

Show me the wonder of Your mercies,
You Who save those who hope in You from those who resist Your right hand.

Keep me as the apple of Your eye;
You will protect me in the shelter of Your wings
from the presence of the godless who trouble me.
My enemies surround my soul.

They have closed their heart,
their mouth speaks arrogance.

Those who threw me out have now surrounded me;
they have set their eyes to cast me down on the ground.

They lie in wait for me like a lion alert for its prey,
and like a lion cub living in hidden places.

Arise, O Lord, forestall them and overthrow them;
deliver my soul from the godless,
take Your sword from Your enemies' hand.

O Lord, separate them from the few and from the earth in their lifetime.
Their stomach is filled with Your hidden treasure.
They are satisfied with children,
and they leave what remains for their babes.

But I will appear to Your face in righteousness.
I shall be satisfied when Your glory appears to me.

Psalm 24 (25)

To You, O Lord, I lift up my soul.

O my God, in You I trust:
let me never be put to shame,
nor let my enemies laugh at me.

For none who wait for You will be put to shame;
let those be ashamed who do wrong for no reason.

Your ways, O Lord, make known to me and teach me Your paths.

Guide me by Your truth and teach me, because You, O God, are my Savior
and for You I wait all day.

Remember Your compassion, O Lord, and Your mercies, because they are from all eternity.

Remember not the sins of my youth and my ignorance,
but in Your mercy remember me for Your goodness' sake, O Lord.

Good and straight is the Lord;
so He gives laws for sinners in the way.

He will guide the meek<sup>3</sup> to judge what is right,
He will teach the humble His ways.

All the ways of the Lord are mercy and truth to those who seek His covenant and His laws.

For Your name's sake, O Lord, forgive my sin, for it is great.

Who is a man who fears the Lord?
He will instruct him in the way he should choose.

His soul will live among good things,
and his children will inherit the earth.

The Lord is the strength of those who fear Him,
and His covenant will make it clear to them.

My eyes continually look to the Lord, because He will pull my feet out of the trap.

Look upon me and have mercy on me
because I am poor and lonely.

The troubles of my heart are multiplied;
O bring me out of my afflictions.

See my humiliation and my labor and forgive all my sins.

See my enemies, for they are multiplied and they hate me with an unjust hatred.

Guard my soul and deliver me;
let me not be ashamed, for I have hoped in You.

<sup>3</sup> Gk. praus = meek & humble, so we give both translations.

The innocent and upright have joined me, because I wait for You, O Lord.

Redeem Israel, O God,
out of all his troubles.

Psalm 50 (51)

Have mercy on me, O God,
in Your great mercy,
and in Your abundant compassion blot out my transgression.

Wash me thoroughly from my lawlessness and cleanse me from my sin.

For I know my sinfulness and my sin is before me continually.

Against You only have I sinned and done what is evil in Your sight, that You may be justified in Your words and win when You are judged.

For I was conceived in iniquities<sup>4</sup>
and in sins my mother gave me birth.

But You love truth;
the hidden and secret things of Your wisdom
You have made known to me.

You will sprinkle me with hyssop and I shall be clean.
You will wash me
and I shall be whiter than snow.

<sup>4</sup> Lit. "lawlessnesses".

Make me hear joy and gladness.
The bones that have been humbled will rejoice.

Turn Your face from my sins and blot out all my iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God,
and renew a right spirit within me.

Do not cast me away from Your presence or take Your Holy Spirit from me.

Restore to me the joy of Your salvation and strengthen me with Your ruling Spirit.

I will teach Your ways to the lawless,
and sinners will return to You.

Deliver me from bloodshed, O God,
O God of my salvation.
My tongue will rejoice in Your righteousness.<sup>5</sup>

O Lord, You will open my lips and my mouth will declare Your praise.

For if You desired sacrifice,
I would have given it.
You take no delight in whole burnt offerings.

A sacrifice for God is a broken spirit;
a broken and humbled heart God will not despise.

Gladden Zion, O Lord, with Your goodwill, and let the walls of Jerusalem be built.

<sup>5</sup> As Slavonic.

Then You will delight in the sacrifice of righteousness,
in offering and whole burnt offerings.

Then they will offer young bulls on Your altar.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Glory to You, O God (3x)

Reader: Blessed are You, O Christ our God, Who has revealed the fishermen as most wise by sending down upon them the Holy Spirit; through them You drew the world into Your net, O Lover of Man, glory to You.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit...

Grant speedy and certain encouragement, O Jesus, to Your servants, when our spirits become despondent; do not forsake our souls in affliction, nor depart from our minds in time of trouble, but always come quickly to our help. Draw near to us, draw near, You Who are everywhere. Just as You were always with Your apostles, so also unite Yourself to those who love You; so that with one accord we may sing to You, and glorify Your all-Holy Spirit.

...now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

 The sting of death and the victory of Hades have been vanquished;
 for You, O my Savior, came and cried to those in Hades: Enter again into paradise!

You, O most holy Theotokos, are the hope, and the defense, and the refuge of Christians, the unassailable wall, the peaceful haven for the weary. But as one who saves the world with your unceasing prayer, remember us also, O most praised Virgin.

For all days:

Reader: Lord, have mercy. (12x)<sup>7</sup>

The Prayer of the Hours

At every season and every hour, in heaven and on earth, You are worshipped and glorified, O Christ our God, long-suffering, merciful, and compassionate; You love the just and show mercy on the sinner; You call all to salvation through the promise of blessings to come: O Lord, in this hour receive our supplications and direct our lives according to Your commandments. Sanctify our souls, hallow our bodies, correct our thoughts, cleanse our minds; deliver us from all tribulations, evil, and distress. Surround us with Your holy angels, that guided and guarded by them, we may attain to the unity of the faith and to the knowledge of Your unapproachable glory, for You are blessed unto ages of ages. Amen.

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

In the name of the Lord, Father, bless.

Psalm 53 (54)

O God, save me by Your name and judge me by Your power.

O God, hear my prayer;
listen<sup>8</sup> to the words of my mouth.

For strangers have risen against me and strong ones have tried to take my life and have not set God before them.

For look, God is helping me,
and the Lord is the protector of my soul.

He will divert the evils to my enemies.
Destroy them by Your truth.

I will willingly sacrifice to You, O Lord,
I will give thanks to Your name, because it is good.

For You have delivered me out of all my trouble,
and my eye has kept watch on my enemies.

Psalm 54 (55)

Listen, O God, to my prayer and do not overlook my need.

Attend to me and answer me.
I was pained in my meditation and was troubled because of the voice of the enemy, and because of the pressure of the sinner.

For they accuse me of lawlessness and fume with anger against me.

My heart was troubled within me and fear of death fell upon me.

<sup>8</sup> or “give ear”.

Fear and trembling came upon me
and darkness covered me.

And I said, “Who will give me wings like a dove?
And I will fly and rest.”

See, I have traveled far by taking to flight and have camped in the desert.

I waited expectantly for God Who saves me from faintheartedness and from storm.

Drown them, O Lord, and divide their tongues,
for I see lawlessness and strife in the city.

Day and night they go around it upon its walls,
but lawlessness and trouble are in the midst of it, and there is always injustice;

and oppression and fraud never leave its streets.

For if an enemy had reproached me,
I would have borne it.

And if someone who hates me had boasted against me,
I would have hidden myself from him.

But it was you, a man my equal,
my guide and my friend,

who made sweet for me our meals together;
we walked in the house of God in harmony.

Let death come upon them and let them go down alive to Hades, for evil is in their homes and within them.

As for me, I cried to God and the Lord answered me.

Evening, morning and noon
I will tell and declare my needs,
and He will hear my voice.

He will deliver my soul in peace
from those who come near me,
for they were with me in crowds.

God will answer and humble them,
the One Who is before the ages.
For there is no change of heart for them,
because they do not fear God.

He has stretched out His hand to repay them;
they have broken His covenant.

They were scattered by the wrath of His face,
yet their heart drew near.
Their words were smoother than oil,
and yet they are spears.

Cast your care on the Lord and He will support you;
He will not give the righteous a shaking forever.

But You, O God, will bring them down into the pit of destruction.
Murderers and liars will not live out half their days.
But I, O Lord, will hope in You.

Psalm 90 (91)

He who lives by the help of the Most High will pass the night in the protection of the God of Heaven.

He will say to the Lord, “You are my protector and my refuge, my God,” and in Him I will hope.

For He will deliver you from the trap of the hunters and from the embarrassing word.

He will overshadow you with His shoulders,
and under His wings you will hope.
His truth will surround you with armor.

You will not be afraid of any terror by night,
nor of the arrow that flies by day-- of a thing going by in the dark,

of an accident or a noonday demon.

A thousand will fall at your side and ten thousand at your right hand, but it will not come near you.

Only with your eyes you will look on,
and you will see the reward of sinners.

For You, Lord, are my hope;
You made the Most High Your refuge.

No evils will come to you,
and no scourge will come near your dwelling.

For He will command His angels regarding you to guard you in all your ways.

They will lift you on their hands,
lest you strike your foot against a stone.

You will step on the asp and the adder;
the lion and the serpent you will trample underfoot.

“Because he has set his hope on Me, I will deliver him;
I will protect him, because he knows My name.

He will call to Me and I will answer him.
I am with him in trouble,
I will deliver him and glorify him.

With a long life I will satisfy him,
and I will show him My salvation.”

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

Psalm 83 (84)

How beloved are Your temples, O Lord of hosts!

My soul longs and pines for the courts of the Lord,
my heart and my flesh rejoice in the living God.

For even a sparrow finds herself a house and the turtle-dove a nest for herself where she may lay her young--
Your altars, O Lord of hosts, my King and my God.

Blessed are those who live in Your house!
They will praise You forever and ever.

Blessed is the man whose help is from You!
He has arranged in his heart steps of ascent in the valley of weeping, in the place he has made.
For the Lawgiver also will give blessings.

They will go from strength to strength;
the God of gods will be seen in Zion.

O Lord God of hosts, hear my prayer;
give ear, O God of Jacob.

See, O God, our Protector, and look upon the face of Your Christ.

For one day in Your courts is better than thousands.
I would choose to be cast aside in the house of my God rather than live in the tents of sinners.

For the Lord loves mercy and truth;
God will give grace and glory:
the Lord will not withhold good things from those who walk in innocence.

O Lord God of hosts,
blessed is the man who hopes in You.

Psalm 84 (85)

You have been gracious to Your land, O Lord,
You have brought back the captives of Jacob.<sup>11</sup>

You have forgiven the lawlessness of Your people,
You have covered all their sins.

You have put a stop to all Your anger,
You have turned away from the heat of Your anger.

O God of our salvation, convert us,
and turn away Your fury from us.

Will You be angry with us forever, or prolong Your anger from generation to generation?

O God, You will convert and revive us,
and Your people will rejoice in You.

O Lord, show us Your mercy and grant us Your salvation.

I will hear what the Lord God will say in me, for He will speak peace to His people and to His saints and to those who turn their heart to Him.

But His salvation is near those who fear Him,
that His glory may settle in our land.

Mercy and truth have met together,
justice and peace have kissed each other.

Truth has sprung up from the earth and justice has looked through from heaven.

<sup>11</sup> Lit. "reversed the captivity of Jacob". Cp. Is. 45:13 LXX.

For the Lord will give goodness, and our land will give her fruit.

righteousness will go before Him and will set His footsteps on the way.

Psalm 85 (86)<sup>12</sup>

Incline Your ear, O Lord, and answer me, for I am poor and needy.

Guard my soul, for I am holy;
my God, save Your servant who hopes in You.

Have mercy on me, O Lord,
for all day long I will call to You.

Gladden the soul of Your servant,
for to You, O Lord, I lift up my soul.

For You, Lord, are good and gentle, and most merciful to all who call upon You.

Give ear, O Lord, to my prayer,
and attend to the cry of my need.

In the day of my trouble I will call to You,
because You will answer me.

There is no one like You among the gods, O Lord, and there are no works like Yours.

All the nations You have made will come and worship You, O Lord, and will glorify Your name.

<sup>12</sup> Some restore this Psalm to Vespers as the Introductory Psalm [in lieu of Psalm 103 (104)] on certain occasions, such as weekdays of Great Lent, or at least the Pre-Sanctified Liturgy. If this is done, it is omitted here. A few would not simply omit it, but replace it with Psalm 118 (119):161-176.

For You are great and do wonderful things,
You, alone, are God.

Guide me in Your way, O Lord,
and I will walk in Your truth.
Let my heart rejoice to fear Your name.

I will thank You, O Lord my God, with all my heart, and I will glorify Your name forever.

For great is Your mercy to me,
and you have delivered my soul from the lowest Hades.

O God, lawbreakers have risen against me, and a mob of strong ones have tried to take my life and have not set You before them.

But You, O Lord my God, are compassionate and merciful, most patient, most merciful and true.

Look upon me and have mercy on me;
give Your strength to Your servant and save the son of Your handmaid.

Work with me a miracle for good<sup>13</sup> and let those who hate me see it and be ashamed, because You, O Lord, have helped me and comforted me.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit,
now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Alleluia! Alleluia! Alleluia! Glory to You, O God (3x)

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

Reader: When the thief beheld the Author of Life hanging on the Cross, he cried out: if it were not God incarnate crucified here with us, then the sun would not have hidden its rays, nor would the earth have shaken and trembled. But, O Lord Who suffered for all men, remember me when You come in Your Kingdom.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit...

Standing between two thieves, Your Cross was revealed as the balance-beam of righteousness: for while the one was led down to Hades by the burden of his blasphemy, the other was lightened of his sins and brought to the knowledge of God. O Christ our God, glory to You!

When she who had carried Him beheld the Lamb and Shepherd and Savior of the world hanging on the Cross, she cried out weeping: 'Though the world rejoices in its redemption, I burn inwardly as I behold Your crucifixion, which You suffer for all men, O my Son and my God'.

<sup>14</sup> During the Fourth Week of Great Lent, at this point in the Hours we are to replace this item with the following Kontakion in Tone 7:

Now the flaming sword no longer guards the gates of paradise;
it has been mysteriously quenched by the wood of the cross!
The sting of death and the victory of Hades have been vanquished;
for You, O my Savior, came and cried to those in Hades: Enter again into paradise!

The Prayer of the Hours

At every season and every hour, in heaven and on earth, You are worshipped and glorified, O Christ our God, long-suffering, merciful, and compassionate; You love the just and show mercy on the sinner; You call all to salvation through the promise of blessings to come: O Lord, in this hour receive our supplications and direct our lives according to Your commandments. Sanctify our souls, hallow our bodies, correct our thoughts, cleanse our minds; deliver us from all tribulations, evil, and distress. Surround us with Your holy angels, that guided and guarded by them, we may attain to the unity of the faith and to the knowledge of Your unapproachable glory, for You are blessed unto ages of ages. Amen.

Lord, have mercy. (3x)

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

More honorable than the Cherubim, and more glorious beyond compare than the Seraphim: without corruption you gave birth to God the Word: true Theotokos, we magnify you.

In the name of the Lord, Father, bless.

The Priest comes out to the solea before the Holy Doors, vested only in his epitachelion; he says:

Priest: May God have compassion on us and bless us, may He manifest His presence to us and have mercy on us.

Reader: Amen.

Cheesefare Wednesday and Friday, weekdays of Great Lent, and Holy Monday through Wednesday:

The Prayer of Saint Ephraim

Priest: O Lord and Master of my life, do not permit me the spirit of laziness, despair, lust of power, and idle talk. (All make a prostration.)

But give, rather, the spirit of chastity, humility, patience and love to Your servant. (All make a prostration.)

O Lord and King, grant me to see my own transgressions and not to judge my brother, for blessed are You unto ages of ages. Amen. (All make a prostration.)

O God, cleanse me a sinner and have mercy on me.

The Prayer of the Ninth Hour

Reader: O Master and Lord, Jesus Christ our God, Who are long-suffering towards our sins and have brought us even to this present hour, in which, hanging upon the life-creating Cross, You have opened to the good thief the way into Paradise, and destroyed death by death: be merciful to us, Your humble and sinful and unworthy servants. For we have sinned and transgressed, and we are not worthy to lift up our eyes and look upon the height of heaven, since we have forsaken the path of Your righteousness and have walked according to the desires of our own hearts. But we implore You: in Your boundless goodness, spare us, O Lord, according to the abundance of Your mercy, and save us for Your holy name's sake, for our days are consumed in vanity. Deliver us from the hand of the adversary, forgive us our sins, and kill the passions of the flesh, that putting off the old man, we may be clothed with the new, and may live for You, our master and protector; and that so, following Your ordinances, we may attain to eternal rest in the place where all the joyful dwell. For You, O Christ our God, are indeed the true joy and gladness of those that love You, and to You we send up glory, together with Your Father, Who is without beginning, and Your most holy, good, life-creating Spirit, now and ever and unto ages of ages. Amen.

<sup>16</sup> Customarily, Vespers, the Typika, or the Liturgy of the Pre-Sanctified Gifts immediately follows the Ninth Hour. Perhaps because of this, the usual twelve reverences and repetition of the Prayer of Saint Ephraim are omitted by the service books. It might be useful to ignore this difference between the Ninth Hour and the other Hours in the interest of consistent structure.

If no other service will immediately follow, the Priest pronounces the dismissal, facing the people, after which he bows to them, and returns to the Sanctuary:

The Priest bows toward the icon of Christ on the Iconostasis, saying:

Priest: Glory to You, O Christ, our God and our hope, glory to You.

People: Christ is risen from the dead, trampling down death by death, and upon those in the tombs bestowing life!
